How does LOGNET GLOBAL use the data it collects?

LOGNET GLOBAL provides services to its members. A large part of those services involve identifying its members to other freight forwarders that need partners, agents, assistance etc all over the world. LOGNET GLOBAL uses the data it collects to enhance its ability to provide its members with the largest number of business opportunities available. Security measures in place include the use of username and password protection for certain parts of the website, accessible only to members and LOGNET GLOBAL.
